Momentum Parameter: The momentum method which we refer to as classical momentum is a technique for accelerating gradient descent that accumulates a velocity vector in directions of persistent reduction in the objective across iterations.